SECTION II – RULES & REGULATIONS

Rules & Regulations Effective 03/01/2012

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-1	APPLICATION OF RATES, LAWS, RULES AND REGULATIONS (a) This tariff, published and filed by the Port after public hearings, approval of the Guam Public Utilities Commission and made effective, is notice to the public, to shippers, consignees and to carriers or their agents that the rates, charges, rules and regulations apply to all traffic without specific notice, quotation to (except as hereinafter may be specified) or arrangements with shippers or carriers. The rates, charges, rules and regulations, additions, revisions, or supplements named in this tariff, apply on all freight received at the terminal or wharves of the Port on and after the effective date of this tariff, or effective dates of additions, revisions of supplements thereto. The use of the commercial waterways and facilities under the jurisdiction of the Port Authority shall constitute a consent to the terms and conditions of these rules, and evidences an agreement on the part of all vessels, their owners and agents, and other users of such waterways and facilities to be governed by, and to pay all charges specified by, these rules. (b) If any owner, master, operator, agent, charterer, partnership, trust, corporation or individual who is duly accredited with the Port purports to act for a vessel by communicating with the Port in behalf of a vessel, thereby assumes responsibility for all sums due to the Port in accordance with the fee schedules as set forth in these rules and for timely submission of required Port reports on forms provided by the Port for that vessel and its cargo as well as for any barge and its cargo which the vessel may have in tow. For agents, this applies only for the period they are engaged as agents for the vessel. Any agent whose request through Harbor Master for "Acceptance of Agencyship" for any vessel will be responsible for all charges and until the account is satisfied financially, only then can agencyship be terminated. (c) Whenever any vessel under the terms of these rules shall become obligated to pay any sum of money for any purpose whatsoever, the owner, charterer, agent, master, operator, possessor and person in whose service the vessel is operated or maintained shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of such sums. (d) Use of territorial harbors and harbor facilities is subject to compliance with all applicable federal or territorial laws, rules and regulations.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-2	VIOLATION OF REGULATION PENALTY Any person, who violates, causes or permits to be violated, or fails or refuses to comply with any rule of regulation in this tariff is guilty under Title 12, Chapter 10, Section 10105(g) of Guam Public Law. If such violation causes the port to be assessed a monetary fine, that fine will be passed on to the violator for the total fine plus 20%.
R-3	PAYMENT OF CHARGES Use of the Terminal facilities or wharves of the Port shall be deemed as acceptance of this tariff and the terms, charges and conditions named herein. All invoices are due and payable thirty (30) calendar days after the invoice date. Any invoice remaining unpaid thirty (30) calendar days after the invoice date will be considered delinquent, and after thirty (30) days will be assessed an interest charge of one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month, for as long as the invoice remains delinquent. Failure to pay within this time limit may also cause the suspension of credit privileges to be imposed, as well as placing the delinquent party on a delinquent list. Continued failure to comply with the terms set forth herein may result in legal action. Any charge considered in dispute by the party which has been invoiced, the PAG will not assess an interest penalty, provided that material errors or discrepancies on an invoice have been specifically reported in writing to the PAG General Manager within thirty (30) days after receipt thereof. If not received within thirty (30) days, the invoice shall be considered valid and payable. At no time shall invoices be reduced by any monetary amount for loss and/or damage believed to have been caused by the Authority. When an invoice is in dispute, any portion which is not part of the dispute shall be paid within the 30 day period. Also, the Authority will only negotiate disputed invoices with the party to whom the invoice is issued. On all vessels calling at the PAG terminals, the carrier/agent shall be responsible for the payment of all related charges. The PAG reserves the right to hold vessels, their owners, and/or agents liable for payment of all terminal charges which have accrued, and any charges for the removal of such cargo to another part of the terminal for storage elsewhere, and other applicable charges. Formal application to the PAG Finance Division for credit must be made before incurring charges. This application will state that "all published charges are guaranteed".

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
	PAG may extend credit to any user of facilities upon application for credit and demonstration of financial responsibility. Credit worthiness may be established through current "certified" financial statements or other acceptable evidence of financial responsibility and by furnishing satisfactory credit references and a bank reference. If credit is not properly established, PAG reserves the right to deny the use of its facilities to carriers, cargo owners or other users of the port. When credit has not been properly established, the PAG reserves the right to estimate and collect in advance all charges which may accrue against agents or against cargo loaded or discharged by vessels or other users of the facilities of the PAG terminals. For newly incorporated steamship lines or those users not granted credit, PAG may extend credit to those customers who will post and maintain a Letter of Credit or Indemnity Bond acceptable to the port. Note: Claims for recovery of overcharges must be filed in writing with the Port within thirty (30) days following the date of billing which such overcharge is claimed. Claims filed after the thirty day period will not be valid.
R–4	DELINQUENT LIST: All carriers, vessels, their owners and/or agents, or other users of the facilities of the PAG terminals, placed on the delinquent list for reasons stated herein will be denied further use of the facilities until all charges thereon, together with any other charges due, have been paid.
R-5	FEE FOR COLLECTION OF INVOICES The carrier or its agent is authorized to retain one fourth of one percent (0.25%) of all charges assessed against cargos to defray the cost of collecting these charges on behalf of the Port Authority. By withholding this percentage the carrier or its agent accepts the responsibility for collection of the funds and are responsible for payment to the PAG.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-6	CLAIMS, LIABILITY FOR LOSS OR DAMAGE TO CARGO Effective : 1/01/2018 The Port will not be responsible for loss or damage caused by Force Majeure as defined in this Tariff: In no circumstance shall PAG be liable for a sum in excess of $500.00 per package or non-packaged objects unless the shipper, consignee, trucker, or other inland carrier, or their representatives, prior to the commencement of such services or use of such facilities, declares a higher value and pays to PAG, in addition to the other charges for such services as herein set forth, a premium computed at one percent (1%) of the declared value of each package or non-packaged object and in such event PAG shall be liable for the full declared value of each such package or non-packaged object for damage resulting from its failure to exercise due and proper care in performing the services. The word "package" shall include any van, container or other form of cargo unitization. Claims to the Port for loss or damage to freight or merchandise occurring while in the custody of the Port, on its terminals or property, must be filed in writing within three (3) months following the final delivery of such freight or merchandise from its terminals or property. (If delivery was not made then the date that delivery would have been made.) A fee of $64.71 to cover administrative costs must accompany the claim. Note: It is the responsibility of the cargo owner to supply "Inland Marine Floater" insurance on their cargo to cover loss and damage from origin to destination.
R-7	LIABILITY FOR DAMAGE TO PORT PROPERTY The person, or persons, responsible for, and the person or persons to whom a wharf, facility or other Port property may be assigned, or by whom it is being used, and the master, owner, operator or agent of any vessel, vehicle or other instrumentality involved in any damage to such Port properties for facilities, in excess of fair wear and tear, shall promptly give a full report thereof to the Harbor Master, giving the date and hour the damage occurred, the names and addresses, or, if unknown, a description of witnesses and other persons, vessels or instrumentalities involved in the damage, as well as all other pertinent facts and information that may be available. Refusal, neglect or failure to make or give any such report shall subject such person to applicable penalties under these rules. In addition, the Port may refuse the use of any wharf or facility until such report has been received. Any person responsible for damage to Port property shall make repairs in accordance with Port specifications. Failure to do so, within a reasonable time, will result in the Port making such repairs at the expense of the responsible party or parties.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
	A certificate of financial responsibility or equivalent property and indemnity or liability insurance or bond acceptable to the Port shall be required for all vessels entering the Port facilities. The certificate of financial responsibility or equivalent shall include coverage for the costs of any hazards that may be caused by the subject vessels including but not limited to oil pollution liability and property damages. Carriers shall provide, at a minimum, coverage as defined by federal and local laws, rules or regulations. Carriers either directly or through their agents shall be responsible for providing proof of such certificate of financial responsibility or equivalent to the Port Authority prior to entering territorial waters. If a carrier fails to provide the Port Authority with a certificate of financial responsibility or equivalent for a vessel it represents, then such carrier will be denied access to any and all facilities under the jurisdiction of the PAG.
R-8	REQUEST AND AVAILABILITY OF PORT SERVICES AND FACILITIES (a) The General Manager or his/her authorized representative must be given twenty four (24) hours advance notice during normal working hours prior to reporting time for services, in writing. For services to be performed on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, notice must be given no later than 10:00 hours on the previous Friday. Special services will be provided only upon presentation of a properly signed and approved special service request form, subject to availability of requested services of manpower and/or equipment. (b) The Port will not accept for storage frozen or chilled cargo when such storage facilities are not available or are inadequate. Written instructions from the carrier must be submitted to the General Manager, or his authorized representative, as to the disposition of such cargo before it is discharged from the vessel. (c) Stevedoring and Handling service will be provided by the Port subject to availability of longshoremen, checkers and equipment on a first-come first serviced basis (d) The Port may designate areas to be used only for specific purposes or operations. (e) Whenever another vessel is standing by, awaiting the use of a berth where handling equipment is located, the vessel on berth will be required to work until loading or discharging has been completed. Any vessel on berth which refuses to work continuously shall vacate the berth upon order of the General Manager. When a vessel loses its right to a berth by refusing to work continuously, such vessel will forfeit her turn and go to the bottom of the list of vessels scheduled for berth and manpower availability.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
	(f) Any and all vessels at a berth where handling equipment is located, after completion of loading or discharging, will be required to vacate the berth. Should any vessel fail to vacate the berth, the General Manager shall have the right, authority and privilege to move the vessel at the vessel's own risk and expense. (g) The Port Authority reserves the right to refuse the handling of any commodity which, in its opinion, is not suitable for the available handling equipment. (h) No cargo will be received or issued without proper documentation and clearance from the carrier or its agent and the Port Entry. Note: Partial clearance of any Bills of Lading will not be allowed.
R-9	REQUIREMENT AND CONDITIONS FOR THE EXPORT OF CARGO Outbound cargo will be received by the Port when such cargo is firmly booked with the carrier or its agent, properly marked as to cube, weight and consignee, no less than twenty-four (24) hours in advance of the scheduled arrival based on the first Notice of Arrival (NOA) submitted to Harbor Master's Office. Charges for such cargoes will be computed on labor charge-out and equipment rental rates, in addition to the stated Tariff Rate, for the account of the shipper being serviced for cargos received less than 24 hours or on weekends, holidays and after normal working hours. An exception is given for cargoes under "Free Time Exception".

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-10	HAZARDOUS CARGO AND EXPLOSIVES Handling of shipments of explosives and other dangerous articles as defined by the US Coast Guard or the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be permitted only after a full compliance by the shipper, carrier, and terminal operator with all applicable rules and regulations of that Commission, and of the United States Coast Guard governing the packaging, marking, labeling, handling, and transporting of such articles.
R-11	AMENDMENT OF TARIFF Amendments or revisions to this tariff, its Definitions, Rules, Regulations, Cargo Services or Rates, shall be made by the Port Authority Board of Directors in accordance with formally adopted procedures consistent with requirements established under the Administrative Adjudication Act and by the Federal Maritime Commission and approved by the Guam Public Utilities Commission. Note: Emergency measures for such amendments may be set forth by the Port Authority Board of Directors to establish measures for which there has not been established precedence. Such changes to the tariff will be submitted at the next regular meeting of the Public Utilities Commission for approval.
R-12	LEASES Rates for lease or rental of any port facility, or portion thereof, shall be established and published by the Port Authority Board of Directors and approved by the Public Utilities Commission, exclusive of the Terminal Tariff, in accordance with provisions of the Administrative Adjudication Act. Any such lease or rental agreements in effect at the date of adoption of this tariff by the Board of Directors shall be continued in effect until expiration of such agreements, unless otherwise provided in the subject agreements.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-13	PORT AUTHORITY GENERAL MANAGER'S DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES The General Manager and such other persons as he/she may designate, may enter upon and inspect any vessel using port facilities or upon any premises rented or leased from the Port for the purposes of either ascertaining the kind and quantity of cargo thereupon or to insure the safety, welfare and health of the general public. The General Manager or authorized representative may order the suspension of any Loading or Unloading operation when in his/her opinion such suspension is necessary to insure the safety, health and welfare of the public. The provisions of this tariff and its application shall be interpreted and enforced by the General Manager or authorized representative of the Port Authority of Guam. Such interpretation shall be recorded and made available for public inspection. Requests and complaints on matters relating to these rules must be made to the General Manager in writing. Special services and interim rates can be established by the General Manager for 6 months, until sufficient cost data are available to establish a rate. Special arrangements may be made by written contract for stevedoring, bulk cement and other cargoes that are not normally handled by the Port and/or of great volume. Contracts may also be executed when vessels' characteristics or cargo stowage require special or unusual provisions for stevedoring; or when the vessel is owned by the United States Government. These arrangements will be based on estimated loading rates, man-hour and hazardous pay rates presented in this tariff.
R-14	RESPONSIBILITY OF CLEANING OF PROPERTY BY USER Users of Port Authority property will be required to maintain same in an orderly manner as prescribed by the General Manager. If the User does not properly clean property used, the General Manager shall order the work performed and the user will be billed at labor rates prescribed in Section VI of this Tariff.

Section II – General Rules & Regulations

Rule #	Rule or Regulation
R-15	USE OF PRIVATE EQUIPMENT ON PORT No mechanical equipment may be utilized on the terminals of the Port except as authorized by the Port. Right is reserved to refuse permission when similar equipment, in capacity or nomenclature, is available for use or when equipment does not meet with the approval of the Port. The rental cost of any equipment so hired will be borne by the requesting agent, owner, or operator.
R-16	ARBITRATION All disputes and controversies of any kind and nature arising out of or relating to this tariff shall be determined by final binding arbitration.
